In 2014, the Brown County Community Foundation recorded an amazing year of organizational growth and maturity. The Board of Trustees, committees and staff successfully awarded scholarships, competitive grants and celebrated another Annual Report to the Community with our first ever Volunteer Fair. We expanded our circle of influence as we cultivated many new partnerships throughout the county and sponsored our first annual Christmas in the Village event. We launched a new web site, www.browncountygives.org, which included an online Volunteer Network. Thanks to many generous donors we opened new funds and continued to grow the endowment while increasing our annual payout percentage supporting scholarships and grants. In 2014, three events stand out that define the maturity of the organization as well as the spirit of philanthropy that is our mission.

The first event would be the decision by the Board of Trustees to maximize the impact of Brown County Community Foundation (BCCF) grant dollars. Historically grants were awarded solely through a competitive grant process. This process led to the awarding of a large number of smaller grants and the cumulative impact to the community was very difficult to judge. In 2014, the Board of Trustees dedicated $50,000, or approximately one third of the available grant dollars, toward a more focused impact grant. Trustees wanted to award one or two large grants that would truly be transformative.

Through a Request for Proposal process the BCCF vetted 12 proposals down to three finalists. In the end the BCCF awarded two grants for projects that we believed had the potential to be transformative. A $30,000 grant was awarded to the Brown County Literacy Coalition’s Early Childhood Educational Initiative and a $20,000 grant was awarded to the new Silver Linings Women’s Resource Center. These new partnerships demonstrate the BCCF’s commitment to a more focused approach to identifying important community needs and to provide sufficient funding to impact the desired change.

The second event arrived out of the blue and created a ripple effect throughout the county as the BCCF was notified of a $500,000 challenge grant provided by Lilly Endowment, Inc.’s GIFT VI initiative. Like previous Lilly challenge grants these funds are intended to strengthen community foundations as vehicles to improve the quality of life of Indiana communities. These funds provided an opportunity to incentivize new donations for existing endowments as well as attract charitable dollars to local nonprofits capital campaigns. Lilly Endowment guidelines allowed up to one half of these funds to be used for community projects. The BCCF set aside $100,000 of these funds in support of fund raising campaigns for two major community projects. Challenge grants were awarded to support the “Project Helping Hands” campaign to construct a new shared facility between Mother’s Cupboard and Brown County Habitat for Humanity and the “Expanding the Tradition” building expansion campaign of the Brown County Art Gallery. In addition, another $180,739 dollars was added to BCCF endowments which will provide a permanent stream of funding for Brown County charitable activities.

The third event was another surprise and came from the estate of local philanthropist Howard F. Hughes. The BCCF was gifted a two story building. The estate’s vision was to turn the upper floor into the permanent offices of the Community Foundation and the lower level into a community space dedicated to supporting our nonprofit partners. The BCCF is honored to be entrusted with fulfilling this vision of creating The Howard F. Hughes Community Building. This wonderful structure, prominently located in the north end of downtown Nashville, will be a reminder of the positive and enduring impact of local philanthropy.

Larry Pejeau
CEO
Moving forward in 2015 and beyond the Board of the Brown County Community Foundation (BCCF) is committed to pro-actively focusing a portion of the grant dollars into areas that are deemed to be of high need in the county. The Community Foundation will still have its competitive grant cycle to support community needs, however, a growing portion of the grants will be focused on those projects that have the greatest potential for positive impact on the quality of life in Brown County.

After careful study, consultations with individuals in the community and assessing our ability to rally support in the community and to make a difference the Board has decided to concentrate its efforts in the following the areas:

- Early Childhood Education
- Health and Wellness
- Environment
- Arts and Cultural Preservation

As an example of this focused approach, in 2015 the BCCF intends to work with the Brown County School Corporation to develop a program that will expand access to preschool education. Up to $50,000 will be set aside to support the new program. It is anticipated that at least twenty children, who would otherwise not be able to attend pre-school, will be getting that important jump-start on the education process. The Board feels that this commitment has the potential to have a major long-term positive impact on the lives of these children and the overall quality of education in the classroom. With this initiative, the Community Foundation realizes it should not be a permanent source of funding and do not have the resources to assist all the children in need. We do believe strongly in this initiative and we will be committed to developing alternative funding to continue this initiative in the future.

The BCCF was honored in 2015 to be chosen to be Indiana Arts Commission Region 8 Arts Partner. Our ability to support art projects and arts organizations in Brown County and seven surrounding counties will be greatly enhanced with this designation.

In carrying out our mission to be a collaborative leader for positive impact in the Brown County community by building on the spirit of philanthropy the Board realizes that it must continually earn your trust. Accordingly, our entire Board is committed to being good stewards of the funds entrusted with us. We will continue to strive to minimize our costs and to maximize the efficacy of our investments in the community. We will remain mindful that the real value of the Community Foundation to the community is to be here today, tomorrow and in the future. Our decisions will be geared to preserving that value.

The Board is thankful for your past support and is hopeful we can count on your support in the future.

Robert H. Andrew
2015 Board of Trustee Chair
Launched nearly 25 years ago by Lilly Endowment, Inc., the Giving Indiana Funds for Tomorrow (GIFT) initiative is designed to help local Indiana communities develop the philanthropic capacity to address their own needs and challenges. GIFT VI, launched in September 2014, is the latest iteration of this program.

Under GIFT VI, the Community Foundation was offered a grant of $500,000, subject to certain stipulations. Foundations could use their discretion to award up to one half of the grant for community projects, capital campaigns or existing endowments. The BCCF decided to leverage $250,000 of the grant in this manner. The match challenge stipulation for the other half of the grant required raising dollars from donors for the unrestricted endowments held by the Community Foundation. These donations would grow available community grant dollars and would be matched by Lilly Endowment dollar for dollar.

After vetting proposals from a number of local nonprofits the BCCF awarded GIFT VI challenge grants to two local capital campaigns; Project Helping Hands and Expanding the Tradition.

Thanks largely to the fund raising efforts of Project Helping Hands and substantial donations from the Howard F Hughes Estate, as well as contributions from, SCI Membership Community Fund and the Cummins Foundation, the Community Foundation’s fund raising requirements under the first stipulation of its GIFT VI grant have largely been met. We still have a significant distance to go, however, to match the $250,000 dedicated to the Foundation’s unrestricted endowments.

This is Our Brown County Challenge, to grow our capacity to support community activities and needs now and forever. To raise $250,000 for a community our size is always challenging. Yet, investing in the Foundation as a lasting philanthropic leader with the expanded endowments that allow it to contribute in perpetuity to whatever needs are deemed critical at any point in time is prudent.

GIFT VI offers a substantial incentive to provide for the future with a dollar for dollar match on all new donations to unrestricted endowments received through March 31, 2016. With your help and generosity the Community Foundation will have raised $250,000 in new donations for unrestricted endowments by this deadline. With the GIFT VI match the community will have an additional $500,000 invested and the potential for $20,000 per year in additional grants for funding community philanthropic needs in the future.

ENDOWMENT:
A gift that can grow to the benefit of the causes you hold dear and for the community you love, FOREVER

GIVE TO THE FUTURE OF BROWN COUNTY
You’ve lived here. You’ve worked here. You are part of this community’s past and present. By creating an endowment fund with the Community Foundation, you can support the causes you believe in perpetuity as well as invest in the future of the community.

HOW IT WORKS:
- Choose to endow your gift of $5000 ($25,000 for endowed scholarships) to the community foundation—ask us about options for making gifts over time that add up to this minimum amount.
- The principal of your fund is never spent, and it can grow over time to generate an increasing stream of funding devoted to your interest areas and this community.
- Earnings are used to make grants that meet community needs. Your gift—and all future income from your gift—is a permanent source of community funding that makes good works possible, forever.

In 2014 in the Community Foundation distributed $140,276.10 in funds to organizations that have entrusted it with managing their endowed funds. An additional $89,348.38 was rolled over, at the request of the endowment fundholders, in order to assure the continued growth of their funds in perpetuity.

Among the beneficiaries of the endowment funds disbursed were:
- Brown County Career Resource Center
- Brown County Public Library
- Brown County Humane Society
- Brown County YMCA
- Brown County Literacy Coalition
- Mother’s Cupboard Community Kitchen
- Harmony Education Center
- Girl Scouts of Central Indiana
- Gnaw Bone Camp Nature Preserve
- Dolly Parton Imagination Library
- Brown County Lions Club
- Brown County Historical Society
- Oak Ridge Cemetery Association
- Mt. Zion Cemetery Association

Twenty years ago while in our late 40s, we moved from the Chicago suburbs to Brown County because we thought it would be a nice area to raise our children and a bucolic setting where we might like to retire someday. Shortly thereafter we were invited to establish an endowment at the relatively new Brown County Community Foundation, which we did, although with little real knowledge or appreciation of the Foundation. Ten years later, while in the process of updating our estate plan and wills, we recognized the importance of the BCCF to the community and, after meeting family needs, included the Foundation as a beneficiary for a portion of our estate upon our death. Today we appreciate even more the value of the BCCF to the well-being of Brown County. Over this period our original endowment has tripled in value while also having provided annual financial support to several area non-profits. We are thankful for the service, integrity, and stewardship of the BCCF in serving the community and the opportunity for us to support its mission in some small way during our lives and thereafter.

~Mike & Jaydene Laros
The Brown County Community Foundation offers a variety of easy ways for you to provide continued support for organizations and the things you feel most passionate about long after you are gone, including:

OUTRIGHT GIFT. Make a gift today with cash, stocks, bonds or other assets to your community foundation. Your charitable gift may qualify for attractive tax advantages.

BEQUEST BY WILL. Establish a fund in your name (or in the name of your family) by designating a gift or portion of your estate to your community foundation. In some cases, receive a substantial reduction in federal gift and estate taxes.

REAL ESTATE. Turn property gains into community impact. The value of your real estate may exceed that of any other asset you own. Use it to establish or contribute to a community foundation fund; you can fulfill charitable interests and receive tax benefits.

RETIREMENT ACCOUNTS. Choose our community over taxes. Naming the community foundation as a beneficiary of your retirement account (401(k) or IRA) is an easy way to make a significant, lasting gift that may not be possible during your lifetime. It’s easy; no need to modify your will or estate plan.

LIFE INSURANCE. Make community the full or partial beneficiary of a life insurance policy. It’s a simple way to make a major gift back to the community that you call home, with possible tax benefits during your lifetime.

CHARITABLE GIFT ANNUITY. Give cash or property to your community foundation now, get immediate tax benefits and ensure that you or a loved one receive fixed income payments for life.

CHARITABLE TRUSTS. Place cash or property in a charitable remainder trust that pays income to you or a loved one for life. After your death, the balance transfers to the community foundation for a charitable purpose you have selected. You receive income tax benefits the year you establish your trust. Or establish a charitable lead trust that pays a fixed amount to the community foundation for a number of years. After this period, trust assets transfer to the beneficiaries you name. In some cases, this arrangement reduces your federal gift and estate taxes.

Isaac Gluesenkamp (left) received a full four-year scholarship to any Indiana college of his choice. This scholarship was given by the Lilly Endowment Community Scholarship Program through the Brown County Community Foundation.

Since 1998, Brown County Community Foundation has had the privilege of awarding Lilly Endowment Community Scholarships to 32 Brown County High School Graduates. This annual scholarship will pay full four-year tuition and $900 a year for books and equipment to the Indiana public or private college of Student’s choice. The scholarships are the result of a statewide Lilly Endowment initiative to help Indiana students reach higher levels of education. Indiana ranks among the lowest states in the percentage of residents over the age of 25 with a bachelor’s degree. During the first 15 years of the program, 3,629 students have received Lilly Endowment Community Scholarships statewide. Those scholars are attending 45 different Indiana colleges.

2014 Grants
During the 2014 grant cycle the Community Foundation distributed $72,644.
Fourteen Brown County organizations received full or partial funding of their requests.

An Investment in the Community . . . The Brown County Community Foundation strives to ensure that its grantmaking meets donors’ charitable interests and addresses the community’s changing needs. Grants are viewed as investments in the community that are made wisely and fairly. Effective grantmaking requires good working relationships with nonprofit agencies. Grant recipients are the Foundation’s partners. Their ideas and capabilities determine the impact of grant investments. The Foundation gives priority to programs having measurable outcomes. Grantmaking fields of interest include the areas of arts and culture, education, environment, human services, public health and other charitable purposes. Grants are made only to organizations whose intent is for charitable purposes. Most grants are made to nonprofit organizations that are classified as tax-exempt Section 501(c)(3) public charities. The Foundation operates without discrimination as to age, race, faith, gender, sexual orientation, national origin, disability or financial status in the consideration of grant requests. It will award grants only to organizations operating without discrimination. Grant seekers are encouraged to contact the Foundation for specific grant guidelines and application procedures. Competitive grant requests are reviewed by the Grants Committee and presented to the Board of Trustees for approval.

Impact Grant: Bringing Focus

Historically the Foundation has offered competitive grants in a reactive fashion. Our local non-profit partners would submit an application to support their program and activities and the BCCF Grant Committee would do its best to award available grant dollars to as many organizations as possible. This method certainly benefitted many organizations, however, distributing 100% of limited dollars in smaller grants did not result in the ability to fund truly transformative initiatives.

In 2014 the Foundation decided to set aside $50,000 to take a slightly different path to encourage creativity and broaden impact in the community. Following a competitive request for proposal process at the end of 2014 the Foundation issued two impact grants:

$24,466 to The Women’s Resource Center: The funds will be used to develop a more sustainable model to serve victims of domestic violence in Brown County; educate and inform community partners about the best practices serving victims of domestic violence; and, exploring options for job creation for victims.

$30,000 to The Brown County Literacy Coalition: The funds will be used to form a collaborative advisory group focused on early childhood education; launch a 12 month community awareness campaign; research and publicize educational markers that matter most for success in preschool; and, cultivate future funders of a robust preschool program.

Both programs represent a true partnership between the Foundation and the recipient organizations. The Foundation is working with the organizations to set objectives and deliverables including progress reporting responsibilities.

Community Service Award
Honoring John D. Rudd

In 2003, the Board of Trustees of the Brown County Community Foundation established the Community Service Award in honor of John Rudd’s devotion and demonstrated broad based service to his native county. This award annually honors an individual (or individuals) who have demonstrated the commitment, accomplishment, and spirit of John D. Rudd. In acknowledgement of his remarkable record of service, Mr. Rudd was the first recipient of this award. The 2014 award was given in honor of the many contributions of Tom Tuley.

Tom retired as the editor of the Evansville Courier & Press in 1995 and moved to Brown County. Since that time, he has devoted countless hours volunteering for important projects for Brown County. Tom has been a board member of the Salt Creek Trail Committee. He spearheaded the Phase One Fundraising Campaign, wrote numerous grants including the largest received from the Meijer Foundation and has supervised the construction of the trail. Tom was a founding member of the YMCA Board and acted as Chairman of the original capital campaign. He recruited the first director and co-chaired the design and construction committee.

Tom was the co-chair of the building campaign for the new St. Agnes Catholic Church. Most recently Tom has served as the President of the Nashville Arts and Entertainment Commission, and he has been instrumental in building a partnership with two of the other four Arts and Entertainment Districts in the State in Bartholomew and Monroe Counties. Tom’s interest in art runs deep and he has served as the President of the Brown County Artist as well as being an artist member. Tom has served as a grant reviewer for Region 8 of the Indiana Arts Commission and was the lead promoter and fund raiser for the Nashville Arts Village’s outdoor art installations. He has served continually as the liaison between all of these committees and the Brown County Community Foundation.

While his interest are varied his willingness to maintain a high level of interest and action has continually singled him out for a leadership role. Tom has accepted these responsibilities with grace and a good sense of humor as he has patiently marched each project successfully to closure. A number of Brown County’s wonderful assets would still be on the drawing board were it not for Tom’s devotion and clearly demonstrated service to the citizens of this county.

Volunteers: The Heart and Soul of Not-For-Profits

The Community Foundation and nearly all not-for-profit organizations rely on volunteers to carry out their missions. Those volunteers not only provide an invaluable service, they help build a sense of community and define who we are and what we mean to each other. To show our appreciation for their contributions, in 2014, the Community Foundation initiated a Volunteer of the Year recognition award program and attached a $500 donation to each recipient’s organization of choice. The recipients of the 2014 awards were:

While the value our community places on volunteers and our reliance on them for the services they provide is widely recognized and appreciated, connecting needs with people’s interests and willingness to volunteer has always been a struggle for most organizations. In an attempt to help address that problem the Community Foundation began developing an on-line Volunteer Network where any not-for-profit organization or group can briefly describe their missions or purpose and the volunteer opportunities they offer. The Community Foundation hosts the Volunteer Network on its website. It is maintained largely by the organization and groups needing volunteers so that the information is kept as current as possible. For those of you how are looking to get involved in our community, to share your experience and to derive the personal satisfaction of working for a cause that is important to you, or to just expand your circle of friends, please visit the Volunteer Network at the website below.

The board serves as a bridge between the Community Foundation and the community. Each member is elected to serve a three-year term without compensation. To ensure continuity, terms of the trustees are staggered, with a maximum of six years on the Board.
